age: 26
residence: Charlotte, NC education: Bachelors Degree occupation: Teacher marital status: Single

My students come first in everything I do.

Joan is a new teacher, having recently gotten her certification from a teacher placement agency. She is in her second year of teaching now, starting to get the hang of things more, but she is always forgetting lesson plans at home and is constantly getting distracted when trying to grade assignments. She knows it's her ADHD but she can't figure out a way to limit distractions and normal reminder apps don't work for hee.

I strive to be the most successful but it's hard sometimes

I love spending time with my friends and going to visit cool parks. I am currently an undergraduate student on the pre-med track where I want to become a neurosurgeon. I love the brain and it can't seem to get out of my head.

Criteria For Success:

A tool to help me stay focused when I'm trying to study, break up large assignments, and give me reminders about them.

Needs

- Block my use of social media platforms while I am studying
- Send me multiple notifications about upcoming assignments

Wants

- minimalistic design
- easy to use
- work efficiently

Values

- Attending doctor's appointments and hangouts when I say I will instead of forgetting about them
- Good grades

Fears

- My grades will fall because I forgot about an assignment
- I will have to pay the doctor's office because I missed a scheduled apointment
